

Alterego low

Year	2018
Designer	Giacomo Moor

Alterego low sideboard springs from designer Giacomo Moor's sensitivity for craftsmanship paired with Acerbis' ability to experiment and innovate. The proportions of the credenza are generous, but the almost invisible, transparent base and the glow of the back-lighting create an unusually beautiful optical effect of suspended airiness. Visually, the full-height front panel appears to be the only supporting element, but it's merely a sliding door to the main compartments inside. Alterego low sideboard is dedicated both to storage and to home entertainment, designed to accommodate multimedia systems with its central space fitted with glass shelves and holes for cables. The drawer compartment is backlit and can be equipped with an opalescent methacrylate bottle holder bar accessory.
